Medical Examination Report — Psychological Impact Assessment

PATIENT DETAILS

Name: Vikram Mehta | Age: 41 years | Gender: Male Referred by: Andheri (West) Police Station (FIR No. 234/2024) Date of Examination: 09-01-2024 Examining Doctor: Dr. Priya Nair, MD (Psychiatry), KEM Hospital Mumbai

CLINICAL FINDINGS

Patient presents with symptoms of acute financial trauma and stress disorder following significant financial fraud. Clinical observations: 1. Marked anxiety and sleep disturbances reported since January 2024. 2. Patient reports loss of appetite and inability to concentrate at work. 3. Patient expressed significant distress about loss of life savings amounting to Rs. 25 Lakhs. 4. No physical injuries observed. 5. Patient is mentally competent to give testimony and understands the legal proceedings.

PSYCHOLOGICAL IMPACT ASSESSMENT

The financial fraud has caused considerable psychological harm to the complainant. The loss of Rs. 25 Lakhs representing the complainant's 8-year savings has resulted in significant mental distress. The patient will benefit from counselling support. The fraud has also affected the patient's professional performance as reported by the patient himself.

OPINION

In my professional medical opinion, the complainant has suffered real and significant psychological harm as a direct result of the financial fraud. The symptoms observed are consistent with fraud-induced trauma. The complainant is fit to depose before the court.
